A Most Deserving Home Boy Turned Out to Make Room For a Stranger.

On April 11, 1904, the Board of Education of the City School met, five out of the six members being present, and the record of that meeting shows that, "The ballot was then spread and Mr. M. A. Comack was elected Principal of the High School for the ensuing year."

Mr. Comack was notified of his election and has made all arrangements to teach in the City School next year. On May 9th, the august School Board met again, and without notice to Mr. Comack turned him out, or reconsidered its former action and attempted to place in his stead one Mr. R. T. Whittinghill, of somewhere in Tennessee. The only reason alleged being that the said School Board had adopted a rule requiring a teacher to receive four votes in order to secure a position in the school, and alleging that Mr. Comack had received the votes of but three out of the five members present at the first meeting.

If there was such a rule in existence, did not these learned gentlemen know it when they declared Mr. Comack elected? If not, did they have to wait until Mr. Brent, the absent member, returned, or did some other person tell them that the former action was invalid? We do not know Mr. Whittinghill, and do not attempt to place any estimate on his worth or ability as a teacher, but we do know Mr. Comack, and we know that he is a very deserving young man of the best moral character and is reputed to be the most scholarly young man this county has produced in recent years. He is a graduate of Kentucky University, being one of the honor men of his class, and has some experience as a teacher and has given satisfaction. He was born and raised in Paris, and was educated by the Garth Fund of this county, being a good example of the fruits of that fund.

Both gentlemen were applicants for the position at the first meeting, and Mr. Comack was declared to be elected. Did the Board find out anything in the meantime detrimental to Mr. Comack's character that would impair his usefulness as a teacher? If they did, what is it? If they did not, will the gentlemen rise and explain why this young man should be humiliated in such a manner?

The members of the School Board are all business men in this city, and expect the patronage of the home people, and should be entitled to receive it. Why do these gentlemen insist on bringing strangers to fill the positions in our schools, thereby sending our own deserving young men among strangers to seek employment?

Please answer, gentlemen, and let the public know the facts.

Hon. C. J. Bronston, of Fayette, then nominated Judge Smith for permanent chairman and he was elected by acclamation, as was Mr. Rogers for permanent secretary.

Thos. E. Moore, Jr., in an able and eloquent speech presented the name of Hon. C. M. Thomas, of Bourbon, as the Democratic standard-bearer for Congress in the old Ashland District. Mr. Moore was in good voice and the Bourbon boys were very proud of him.

Comack; and Mrs. Evelyn Buck was elected Art Teacher in place of Mrs. H. H. Hill; Miss Mary A. Ford was elected teacher, and Miss Julia O'Brien was chosen to teach Music and a Class of Literature.
